CineLink Talks offers a rich programme of master classes, debates, and seminars, which are open to all festival and industry guests. The key section of the CineLink Talks is the Regional Forum, an annual conference intended to consider the current issues faced by the industry in Southeast Europe, ranging from the convergence of the film and television sectors when it comes to quality scripted content, to film education.

SUNDAY, 17 AUGUST

9:30 – 11:00
CineLink Talks | Regional Forum
CREATIVE CITIES: CREATIVE INDUSTRIES AS KEY DRIVERS OF ECONOMIC GROWTH AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT
- David Wilson - UNESCO City of Film /UK
- Larisa Halilović - British Council /B&H
- Abdulah Skaka - Mayor of Sarajevo /B&H
- Mato Franković - Mayor of Dubrovnik /Croatia
- Mirsad Purivatra - Sarajevo Film Festival /B&H

As modern cities confront economic challenges and strategise their urban regeneration and future prosperity, the creative industries are recognised as generators of jobs and economic growth, while contributing to well-being, social inclusion, and community building. David Wilson, Director of Bradford UNESCO City of Film, speaks about the strategic role of the film industry in the sustainable development of the city of Bradford, the world's first UNESCO City of Film, since 2009, within the UNESCO Creative Cities Network. Larisa Halilović, Director, British Council Bosnia and Herzegovina, discusses the Digital Cities project, which focusses on the digitalisation of participant cities, recognising that cross-cutting among creative industries, digital education, and digital technology is becoming crucial for the development of local communities. The panel discussion will encompass creative cities in the Southeast European region that have capitalised on their creative assets and talent through film and television production incentive programmes with remarkable investment returns.

CineLink Talks | Dealing with the Past
THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS | Damir Šagolj

Damir Šagolj discusses what distorts the image – what is our perception of events after their images are projected through all the prisms and filters in today's complex world of media and communications, which are mostly owned by powerful corporations? Šagolj uses his own vast experience in photography and as a documentarist to address this question.

15:00 – 16:30
CineLink Talks | Regional Forum
CREATIVE CITIES: BAM CONFERENCE
- Haris Čustović - London SAE /UK
- Mirza Tahirović - Studio Chelia /B&H
- Tafyun Kesgin - Goethe-Institute /Germany
- Gorčin Dizdar - Market-Makers /B&H

BAM-C is the beginning of the journey, mapping sparks and initiatives of the avant-garde, progressive movements, and subcultures, such as the growing demand for the disco, electronic, rave, and techno scene on the Balkan peninsula, emanating from the countries of the former Yugoslavia towards the rest of Southeast Europe and creating a regional networking melting pot – right here in Sarajevo. The vision of BAM-C is to create and design the future of the creative industries in order to forge a path to more sustainable urban development. As well as BAM-C, this panel will emphasise the music industry as one of the main creative industries that will lead the way to a future development of creative cities. The plan is to discover, research, re-invent, refresh, and re-activate large stores of forgotten data, dusty secret shelves, untold stories, and forgotten talents, and to extract new energy and technology. BAM-C is becoming a platform that engages, links, promotes, and advises cross-sector stakeholders so the Balkan cities will remain fertile ground for new programming content. By promoting the night economy as a new branch of industry, and advocating for the smart activation of cultural-historical sites and the remapping of Bosnia and Herzegovina, BAM-C aims to develop the creative future of this country and the region.

NEW TRICKS: SKILLING UP THE NEXT WAVE OF IMMERSIVE STORYTELLERS

| Rebecca Gregory-Clarke | National Film and Television School and StoryFutures Academy | UK |

This session explores the state of the emerging immersive storytelling sector, from recent VR and AR content trends and successes, to the significant challenges that still exist for content-makers. We will look at new roles and skills that content-makers need to develop, and the work that StoryFutures Academy: the National Centre for Immersive Storytelling is doing to support this development in the UK. Rebecca Gregory-Clarke is Head of Immersive at the National Film and Television School and StoryFutures Academy: the National Centre for Immersive Storytelling, which aims to help skill up the screen industries in the use of virtual and augmented reality technology.

OPENING THE WINDOW TO NEW PLATFORMS FOR DOCUMENTARIES

| Shane Smith | Hot Docs /Canada |
| Harry Vaughn | Sundance /US |
| Laurien ten Houten | IDFA / Netherlands |
| Leena Pasanen | DOK Leipzig / Germany |

The growing impact of online platforms has disrupted the business model for the distribution of documentaries, but, at the same time, it has opened a lot of new prospects. The recently announced strategy of companies like HBO GO, Netflix, and Amazon to focus more on local content for documentaries will create more possibilities for non-English-language projects. During this panel, representatives of the most important festivals around the globe discuss how new and upcoming filmmakers can take advantage of these changes – what are the threads, but also the opportunities for documentaries coming from Southeast Europe? How the role of the film festivals is changing in the 21st century when it comes to project financing and, eventually, world premieres? The talk will be moderated by Hanka Kastelicova (Executive Producer Documentaries, HBO Europe), who will also elaborate on HBO’s growing online services and how they will affect the region.

WHEN QUEST FOR POLITICAL TRUTH BECOMES PERSONAL - FILMING MY MOTHER

| Mila Turjalić /Serbia | Maryam Zaree /Germany

Mila Turjalić and Maryam Zaree discuss how politics and regimes shape the lives and personal histories of families. How one can build a film around a conversation with mothers, or a lack of conversation that leads to an understanding of the family and political truth. What are the challenges of having your family and yourself as the protagonists of your film?

Mila Turjalić is a documentary filmmaker born in Belgrade. Her most recent film, THE OTHER SIDE OF EVERYTHING, had its premiere at the Toronto International Film Festival in 2017, and went on to win 20 awards, including the prestigious IDFA Award for Best Documentary Film. Her film, an intimate conversation between the director and her mother, the dynamic activist and scholar Srbijanka Turjalić, reveals a house and a country haunted by history. What begins as the chronicle of a childhood home grows into an elegant portrait of a charismatic and brilliant woman in times of great political turmoil.

Director and actor Maryam Zaree was born in one of Iran’s most notorious political prisons. In her documentary debut, BORN IN EVIN, she embarks on a personal search for clues: in an effort to break the silence, she talks with her parents about the violent circumstances surrounding her birth. Zaree’s cinematic approach unfolds through her own biography, but beyond this it alerts us to the horrors of persecution and dehumanisation in Iran and the rest of the world.

TRUE STORIES MARKET

The True Stories Market is dedicated to the improvement of dialogue among the countries of the former Yugoslavia, which are faced with the deep and far-reaching consequences of the aftermath of past conflicts. The market presents six cases selected from the archives of key organisations that work to document the Yugoslav Wars to film and TV professionals. The market serves as an open source for filmmakers to weave stories that can address larger audiences, with all the urgency and power that cinema offers. In order to facilitate their transition from market to screen, after the festival an open call invites filmmakers to apply to execute a project inspired by one of the stories highlighted by the market.
